

VEGRA Quality Management

VEGRA's quality management system is tailored to the structure and size of our company and is directly based on the DIN EN ISO 9001 standards.

To ensure compliance with strict quality and environmental requirements, comparable to the Sony Standard SS-00259, ongoing adjustments to our VEGRA quality management system in line with applicable standards and legal regulations are necessary.

It is therefore essential that the entire process, from the incoming goods, inspection of our raw materials to the quality assurance of intermediate and sales products and shipping, is subject to defined rules and is therefore traceable.

From the selection of raw materials to the production process itself, sustainability and environmental friendliness are part of our company philosophy.

Therefore, our constant goal must be to meet the current and future requirements of our customers with high-quality products, innovative environmental orientation and first-class services.
